

ICASSI 1994 Ottawa, Ontario, Canada

ICASSI was held in Ottawa, Ontario, Canada in July 1994 on the campus of Carleton University. 1994 had been declared International Year of the Child by the United Nations and the opening ceremonies were a celebration of many countries joining together to honour the work of Adler/Dreikurs in supporting families around the world.

Achi Yotam, a much respected and loved ICASSI leader, was remembered with a moment of silence. He was a man who had lived and modeled Adlerian Psychology at its best.

390 participants attended the two week summer school surrounded by the beauty of Ottawa. The general atmosphere was one of camaraderie and excitement about the calibre of learning, the numbers in attendance and the superb weather throughout ICASSI.

Highlights:

A large delegate from Japan (15)

A large number of Americans (160)

The fire alarm during the night which had everyone meeting in their sleepwear

Floy Pepper and Bronia Grunwald were honoured for their long term contributions to ICASSI as they both retired from the faculty.

Marion Balla had many fond memories of hosting ICASSI and sharing the wonders and beauty of the capital of her country.
