WELCOME

The International Committee for Adlerian Summer Schools and Institutes invites you to the 57th Rudolf Dreikurs Summer Institute!

The Faculty, Board and Administrative team members all look forward to seeing you in Steinfeld, Germany, in the region of the Eifel, south of Cologne.

Following the pioneering spirit of Alfred Adler and Rudolf Dreikurs the participants will experience enriching learning opportunities in an international atmosphere that enhances Social Interest. It is needed more than ever.

We live in a world that is threatened and threatening. Last year 2023 we had to experience horrible events worldwide, natural catastrophes, terror and war. Among them were the terrible earthquake in the border region of Turkey and Syria in February where more than 50.000 people died; the forest fires in Canada, Hawaii and the Mediterranean region in summer which caused a lot of damage to nature and people who lost their homes; the big earthquakes in Morocco and later in Afghanistan in autumn, and heavy rain in Libya causing flood. The ongoing war in Ukraine and the October 7th attacks and the subsequent war in Israel/Gaza led to thousands of dead and injured and refugees trying to live on in different countries with new cultures and languages. Lots of adults and children are traumatized by experience their losses.

Individual psychology, developed by Alfred Adler and Rudolf Dreikurs, is as relevant as ever, with its focus on cooperation, equality and mutual respect between individuals and groups and its understanding of the whole person in today's complex, fast changing and threatening world.

Our summer institute provides a unique opportunity to learn and share experiences with colleagues from around the world. Participants will acquire knowledge and learn practical skills that will serve them in their professional and personal lives. Classes will deal with contemporary challenges in areas of parenting, couple relationship, school, counseling, clinical practice, workplace problems, multicultural living and more.

As a professional offering counseling, coaching, supervision or therapy, as a parent or lay person, you will benefit from the life-changing learning experience of the summer institute 2024 in Steinfeld.

2. COURSE SELECTION GUIDE

ICASSI offers a variety of course options to meet participants' learning needs and interests, whether one registers for the first week, the second week, or for both weeks. Each morning from 09:00 to 10:30 there is a plenary lecture and demonstration. Following the plenary lecture, participants choose either two half-day courses or a full-day course per week.

DISCLAIMER: ICASSI reserves the right to change or cancel course offerings as necessary for programmatic reasons, e.g., if courses do not have minimum number registered, faculty illness, etc.

Languages:

Alfred Adler and Rudolf Dreikurs were native German speakers so their first publications on Individual Psychology were in German and it therefore has strong roots in the German language. Until today, ICASSI has lived up to this tradition and offers translations of the lectures to German and English. Also some courses are offered in both languages. However, if all participants of that course agree on one language it will be held in the agreed language.

Course descriptions and educational objectives for plenary lectures and courses are to be found on the website www.icassi.net

3. PROGRAM WEEK 1

PLENARY LECTURES FOR WEEK 1, 9:00 - 10:30

Monday July 22	The current relevance of IP – Eva Dreikurs Ferguson Examples are given of how Adlerians understand behavior, thinking, and emotions. Goals and private logic are important concepts, as are Social Interest, Life Style, and ‘the need to belong.’ ICASSI: past, present, future- Uti Landscheidt This plenary will show ICASSI's endeavor to help professionals, students, and lay persons learn the teachings of Adler and Dreikurs and master appropriate skills, while striving to create an atmosphere of social interest, mutual respect and diversity.
Tuesday July 23	Leadership and the Crucial Cs in War, Home and Office– Elli von Planta Leadership has become a buzzword over the last decades. In this presentation, the Crucial Cs are used as the basis of understanding of what a leader has to deliver, why and when. We will look at leadership in its various forms: first in its origin (war). Then, looking at leadership in our homes where children have to be led, and finally at leadership in the workplace, with different priorities being relevant. Those different priorities in the social versus the economic world are going to be examined as well as the effect on people and their states of mind.
Wednesday July 24	From the striving for power to a meaningful life - Ursula Oberst Individual Psychology is the first psychological approach that has related psychological problems directly to a concept so vast and striking as the idea of POWER. Alfred Adler defined the striving for power or for superiority as the core issue not only of psychological disorders, but of psychological suffering in general and also of the suffering people inflict on others. This presentation will show how Adlerian Psychology can serve as a model not only to understand but also to transform the pressing socio-ecological crisis of our contemporary society, and promote change not only on an individual but also on a social and sociological level.

Thursday July 25	Lifestyle and Dreams –Gerhard Baumer This plenary will show how we psychologically process everyday experiences or unresolved conflicts/traumas in nightly dream experiences - and this according to our private logic, our apperception schema. Gerhard will outline the similarities and differences in working with ERs and dreams and show demonstration of lifestyle work with dreams in a demonstration.
Friday July 26	Adolescents in a today’s world – Anda Pacurar Looking back in every era adolescents were looked with concern and distrust and many people expressed worries regarding the future of mankind considering “the new generation”. And still the world survived and developed quickly also thanks to innovative ideas that came from youth. Looking now to the reality that they are facing it s time to learn from them how they handle: bullying, gender, losses, relationships etc.

PLENARY LECTURES FOR WEEK 2, 9:00 – 10:30

Monday July 29	Managing Emotions: The Importance of Psychological Muscle - Paul Rasmussen Emotions are not diseases. Our emotions are critical features in our orchestration of life. They validate our successes and compel us into useful action. The balance of validating and compelling feelings depends on our psychological muscle. Life is challenging and those challenges are felt emotionally. Do we have the muscle necessary to meet those challenges? In this presentation, we will consider our lifestyle strengths and vulnerabilities and their relationship to our emotions.
Tuesday July 30	The Courage to Be Ordinary - Vom Mut, ganz gewöhnlich zu sein - Andrea Hillenbrand Based on the principles of Individual Psychology we will explore the efforts of individuals to assert their worth and significance by striving to be extraordinary. Individual Psychology teaches us otherwise: Each of us carries inherent value. An alternative to the overcompensation is to place the Gemeinschaftsgefühl at the center of our focus. When we free ourselves from constant self-presentation or the race for recognition, we can focus on what truly matters.
Wednesday July 31	Culture and ERs - Mia Levitt-Frank According to Individual Psychology, various factors influence individual subjectivity and lifestyle, including culture. As Shulman and Mosak (1995) suggested, culture provides perspectives on the world and fosters lifestyle tendencies. Socio economic class is a form of culture that impacts lifestyle. Early recollections, in turn, reveal individual lifestyle including perceptions, beliefs, and behavior patterns. This presentation will highlight influences on lifestyle with a specific emphasis on the role of culture. It will introduce an innovative study on the impact of socio-economic status on individual subjectivity, through the exploration of early recollections. Results of the study illuminate class related tendencies, and emphasize the importance of cultural sensitivity in therapeutic, counseling and educational interventions.
Thursday August 1	Open forum family education demonstration – Marina Bluvshstein The Open Forum Family Education Demonstration is based on the original model developed by Rudolf Dreikurs and further expanded by the next generations of Adlerian practitioners. The demonstration focuses on the collaborative exploration of challenges experienced by a family and the collaborative search for strengths-based solutions.

Friday August 2	I know what I want and I want it NOW! The challenges of sustainability - Bruce Tate The growth of human population brings with it increased demands for a variety of requirements such as land, food and other manmade and natural resources. This is happening against a growing awareness of human impact on the environment and climate and of cultural and geopolitical changes. This presentation will consider some the global challenges in light of Adlerian theory and its practical application.
